It's nice that you have admitted you were behind the fraudulent complaint that has disabled my Rally account.
First you post on my timeline that a "concerned citizen" shut my account down.

Just a heads up @Johnheretohelp is a fraud that has been scamming people for donations. Rally, where this individual had set up a campaign was notified and removed the fraudulent fundraising from their site.
The DS didn't get it removed, a concerned citizen did!

Then you run to your little friends and BRAG that you were the one who did it.

While I don't appreciate your lies, I do appreciate you making it so easy for Rally to investigate YOUR fraud/ lies.

And I certainly hope you appreciate the charges that follow. 😎

Why don't you take your own advice?

About 3 years ago, in Baltimore, I made a video tape approximately 3hours long. It was made for the express purpose of being delivered to Devin Nunez. Initially a redacted copy was delivered, later a full version was delivered. On this tape I discuss in detail my background my work with the DOJ in Baltimore, as well as other federal agencies, and I went into GREAT detail about the crimes committed by those people I worked with. Including illegal surveillance, on private citizens, political rivals, business Hello everyone. As many know I have recently been attacked for speaking out and trying to demonstrate the corruption within the Deep State. Anyone on Twit or social media is no stranger to attacks. But this attempt to divide and corrupt is insidious, hidden, and well funded.

As they often do the bad actors will overplay their hand and eventually expose themselves. They come dressed in sheep's clothing, commiserate, insinuate, control, then destroy. Then their infection moves on.

Post # 68 - Trump has just validated Q at the Great Falls rally and gave us the solution to Q1675! Let that sink in.

1. Q1675. Controversial post. I gave you in my previous post the solution to the riddle. serial.rocks/post-67

2. I have seen many other attempts which I respect because I have found some of the ideas to be very interesting and clever but I must defend the truth:

#Disabled people often go decades, even whole lives, without being included in definitions of what it means to be human. Whether people are talking about human thought, biology, creativity, or whatever, they often exclude our ways of being. It feels like subtle erosion.

When you're talking about human senses, ways of moving, ways of thinking / feeling, ways of philosophising / relating to various concepts...make sure you're not treating it as a singular experience. Even if you don't know all the different

So I know we all have that other reason to be upset w/ CT right now, but for the love of all that is holy #disabled ppl have asked y'all to not only STOP using "differently abled" but also to stop centering the voices of abled parents of disabled kids who claim to speak for us

This article is actually a really good example of exactly how the abled parent perspective gets so much wrong about #disability and its intersections with theology.

Well - it's my birthday today. It's also 3 weeks since we provided @RedbridgeLive with a clear list of emergency needs as disanled, homeless people, that they need to help us meet as per the Care Act. NONE have been met.

mentions So - NO access to disabled bathing facilities suitable to our impairments, for months now. No hairwashing/drying. No support in accessing food, made increasingly impossible by disability, but also complete lack
